BARRIE - With all the sights, sounds and tastes of the islands, Caribfest is taking over the city this weekend.

The annual festival brings music, dance, food, vendors and more to the lakeshore for a celebration of all things Caribbean.

"We have had some spectacular developments for this year's festival," said organizer and founder Ricardo Rowe. "We have top international performing artists from the Caribbean, some of the biggest names, coming to perform...."

Sunday morning includes Gospel Fest on the Opendo Stage between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The event celebrates the tradition of gospel music in the Caribbean and includes a performance by Mount Zion Fellowship Choir.

"This festival has been getting bigger and bigger from our first year," Rowe said. "Thanks to the support of the people of Barrie and the city, this is an event not to be missed."

This section includes a photograph of the choir members and a descriptive text block. Below the choir section is a "Demo" section with a small image of a band performing.

Mount Zion Fellowship Choir

The Mount Zion Fellowship Choir is a vibrant and charismatic group of young people from the Greater Toronto Area focused on conveying songs that speak to God as both salvation and consolation. This group's passion in delivering this message by blending hard hitting traditional gospel with a contemporary flare, has platform them to reach both an adult and youth audience. Such conviction and excitement as presented by this group, has heightened their soulful renditions of mainstream gospel to that of traditional hymns. This 20 voice choir and 3 member band ranging from 18 to 35 years of age, strives to add an eclectic and unique spin to gospel music so that it reaches beyond the confines of this particular musical genre. This versatility has aided in the longevity and success of this group.

Demo

DEMO is a Barrie based band with an eclectic taste in music. Brandon Mhuud (guitar), Gabe Beneteau (bass), Andrew VanWedgegem (vocals), Isaac (vocals), Dan Ruffen (drums) and Emily (vocals) all lend their unique talents and personalities to both original and cover music. Demo's goal is to be heard all around the world.
